

NUXATED IRON

—MASTER STRENGTH BUILDER OF THE BLOOD

The Power Behind the Strong
Sturdy Men and Healthy
Beautiful Women of Today

"To make strong, keen, red-blooded Americans there is nothing in my experience which I have found so valuable as organic iron—Nuxated Iron," says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly Physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York and the Westchester County Hospital, Nuxated Iron by enriching the blood and creating new blood cells strengthens the nerves, rebuilds the weakened tissues and helps to instill renewed energy and endurance into the whole system. It often increases the strength of weak, delicate people in two weeks' time. It is estimated that over 3,000,000 people use Nuxated Iron annually as a tonic, and blood-builder.

MAKE THIS TEST YOURSELF

And Find Out Where Your Blood Stands

See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired; next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. Numbers of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the while have most astonishingly increased their strength and endurance simply by taking iron in the proper form.

BRAKEMEN, CAUGHT BY POLICE, CARRYING LIQUOR

N. E. Brothers, A. J. Hill and H. S. Brown, arrested last night by local police for having a large quantity of intoxicating liquor in their possession, were each found guilty of the charge this morning in the city court and sentenced to pay a fine of $200 each or be imprisoned in the city jail until the fine should be paid, such time not exceeding 180 days.

C. R. Bentley, alleged by the police to have been associated in the offense with Brothers, was found not guilty and was dismissed.

George Wilhite of Omaha, Neb., reported to the police early this morning that he had been robbed of $105 in currency at the Weber hotel. The police in investigating the incident, entered the room occupied by Brothers and Bentley and found two cases of whisky, or 48 pints, concealed in a trunk.

When the men appeared in court this morning, Brothers stated that the whisky was entirely his and that Bentley had no interest in the liquor. Brothers further stated that he had purchased the liquor in this city and was going to store it for his own use when the country went dry.

A. J. Hill and H. S. Brown, two Union Pacific brakemen, were also arrested.

Ambition

TIRE MEN AND WOMEN who "feel old before their time," who are languid, have no energy and lack ambition—these are often sufferers from kidney trouble.

Weak, overworked or diseased kidneys are indicated by amblyopia, tired, nervous condition, by a lowering of skin and puffiness under eyes, backache, stiff joints, sore muscles, or rheumatic pains.

Foley Kidney Pills get right at the cause of suffering and misregulate the kidneys and bladder and restore to sound and healthy condition.

N. R. Reese, Dublin, Ga., writes: "I want to say I am better. Before I started to take Foley Kidney Pills I could not turn over in the bed. I had such severe pain in my back and hips, was so stiff I could not bend over and I had to get up at night five to six times. By taking Foley Kidney Pills I am up and able to go to work."

WOMAN AND TWO MEN ELDER UNDER HEAVY BONDS

Lee Cook, Perry Canahan and Ora Burch, the trio who were arrested in St. George and returned to Ogden by deputy sheriffs in connection with the theft of an automobile and $130 in currency from James Hampton, a negro taxi driver of Salt Lake, waived their rights to a preliminary hearing in the city court and were bound over to the district court for trial. Bail was fixed for the two men at $2000 each and in the case of the girl at $1000.

It was announced by the sheriff yesterday that Cook and Canahan are alleged deserters from Fort Russell, Wyo., having escaped from the post guard house.

Stockyards Are to Be Increased by Local Company

Due to the need for more space because of the heavy growth of business at the Ogden Union Stockyards, Manager L. F. Whitlock has perfected plans for the immediate extension of the cat pens, through the grading and placing of concrete surface on the area between the cattle sheds and the Ogden Horse Sales company. When the yards were built, this area was fenced but has not been finished.

This addition, when completed, will practically double the present capacity of the yards. The new pens will have concrete water troughs and will have sewage connections.

The extension of the sheep yards, so as to provide additional space being contemplated.

Traffic at the yards has been increasing with great rapidity and the

LECTURE ON RUSSIA PROVES TO BE A MOST INTELLECTUAL TREAT FOR CHAUTAUQUANS

Editor Standard—I attended the opening session of the Ellison-White chautauqua Monday evening. I have been asked to give my impressions of the entertainment. It was first class from the first to the last. The Ellison-White company is to be congratulated in giving Ogden such talent. McDonough-Eagleton company deserves great praise. These young ladies rendered their parts with wonderful grace, charm and attractiveness. They are among the best I have heard in many states of America.

The lecture by Dr. Joseph Clare on "The Riddle of the Russian Revolution" was a masterpiece. The doctor's style of delivery is largely conversational. His English is splendid, enunciation clear, voice smooth, and musical, his manner pleasing, his unconscious modulation and gesticulations are restful. The doctor does not appear to desire to create a sensation or to pose as the apostle of any particular propaganda. He seems to have only one purpose—to tell the truth about Russia. After all I have heard and read in regard to Russia, I must acknowledge that my conceptions were more or less confused. Dr. Clare's lecture greatly clarified the atmosphere and made me feel that I had something of a correct idea about "The Russian Riddle." The speaker having spent four years in Russia during the rise and progress of the revolution, he is prepared to give us a resume of Russian affairs at first hand. He showed that the revolution came about naturally, spontaneously, inspirationally, as though the spirit of God had moved upon the troubled waters. He made it plain that Russia had made many mistakes, that her people as a rule had low ideals, born of long continued ignorance, seventy-eight per cent of her people not being able to read and write. Nevertheless, they are kind hearted and have many other admirable qualities.

But they were betrayed shamefully and cruelly by their leading men. Their national officials, their army officers, their policemen, played the traitor. Millions of shells were made too small for Russian guns, but they would fit the German guns. Russian regiments went to fight the Prussian power with only one gun to every twelve men. Thousands of Russian soldiers were forced to fight with clubs and brickbats. You cannot say that they were cowards. They fought under the greatest disadvantages.

When the people began to rise up against the government, policemen stationed on top of buildings would clear the streets with rapid-firing guns. All sorts of unspeakable atrocities were committed by the officials. The people bore the burden as long as they could. They rose as one man, climbed through scuttles holes to roofs, pitched policemen, heading down many stories into the streets. Jails were opened, court buildings were burned and the old order was overthrown. Kerensky came to the help of Russia, a well meaning man, but an idealist, who lacked the strong hand. He gave the people too much license, his theory being that if you give the lawless element plenty of rope they would hang themselves. Soon Kerensky was rushed aside.

In Russia there are many Socialists, the Bolsheviks being only one of them. Trotsky and Lenin perhaps are sincere in a way, but they are scientific dreamers. Their fundamental teaching is "Down with everything that is up, and up with everything that is down." They send their fiery orators among the ignorant masses, the most of whom never heard an enticing speaker. These propagandists say to the people: "We'll divide up the rich man's goods and give each of you your share. You shall do as you please and no longer be bound by the fetters of law." These poor untutored people respond to these appeals. Bolshevism now rules in that country. Chaos, crime and poverty are everywhere. Millions starved to death last winter. The peasant farmers refuse to raise only enough for their products. There is no government back of anything. No power to give value to money. Socialism has a good many good points, but even the most ideal Socialism can never become practical, in a world of sinful men. If all men were born of God and were true Christians, a purified Socialism might work. If all men were regenerated, our present system would work all right, too. The trouble with the world is not with its politics, but with the heart. Men must have God. Russia will one day emerge from this chaotic condition. Her ignorance will be illumined by a fully rounded education. Her lawlessness will evolve into order. Her unrest and unbelief will give way to a living faith in the son of God. Russia will one day take her place among the sisterhood of nations and stand with civilized people around the altars of Jehovah. (Signed)

COLORED WOMEN IN STATE CONVENTION IN OGDEN

The Utah Federation of Colored Women's clubs closed its third annual convention at Embury A. M. E. church, June 12. A large number of delegates were present and many beautiful pieces of art work were on exhibition. Mrs. J. E. Robinson represented household economies and had quite a bit of canned fruit on display.

Owing to the illness of the state president, Mrs. Gertrude Lancaster of Salt Lake City, Mrs. Hattie Marquet, first vice president, presided throughout the sessions.

The federation wishes to thank Mr. and Mrs. Skinner of the Alhambra theater for their kindness in presenting each delegate with a ticket to the show which was heartily enjoyed.

Pulling Down the Billboards in Ogden Canyon

The elimination of signs and billboards that mar the beauty and scenery of Ogden canyon has been almost completed through the campaign of the Merchants of Ogden, according to an announcement made last night at the meeting of the stockholders.

The matter of the billboards has been taken up through the organization with the various business firms that maintained that form of advertising, and practically all have now agreed to the removal.

A resolution making a restricted district for billboards and commercial signs from the top of the dugway at Harrison avenue to the mouth of Ogden canyon and on through to Ogden valley was passed by the organization some time ago, so that none of the members now has any advertising in that district.

Following this action, the organization took steps to get contracts with the property owners along the route that would prohibit the erection of billboards or painting of signs, and

SIDEWALK WORK ON CAPITOL AVENUE IS FAVORED

A number of residents on Capitol avenue have requested the city commission to go ahead with the sidewalk work in District 147, although protests had been made on the ground of the high cost of material.

A petition was submitted to the city commission, and referred to the city engineer for report, by T. G. Wheelwright and others, which is as follows:

"Honorable Mayor and City Commissioners of Ogden, Gentlemen: We, the undersigned property owners on Capitol avenue, between Quincy and Jackson avenues, want the property improvement as set forth in Sidewalk District 147, regardless of the high cost of materials."

Refreshments will be served. The boys in whose honor the party is being given are: Edward Heslop, C. Ambrose McFarland, Mitchell McFarland, and Charles Penman. Everyone is invited to attend the party.

WOMAN IS KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho, June 16.—Mrs. John Sedall of this city was instantly killed and her son-in-law, George Riches, city clerk, was critically injured Sunday afternoon when an automobile in which they were riding was overturned and wrecked. The young son of Mr. Riches was severely injured and other members of the party were badly bruised.

The accident occurred on the Hell creek dugway, about twenty-seven miles east of this city, and was caused by the brakes on the car failing to work.

At the time of her death Mrs. Sedall had not entirely recovered from a serious automobile accident of which she was a victim about two months ago. At that time one of her ears was severed and she suffered many severe bruises.

Mrs. Sedall was about 60 years of age and was a pioneer in this section of the state. She had resided for many years in Idaho Falls with her husband, who survives her.

The accident was witnessed by members of a camping party, who rendered first aid to the injured and brought the body of Mrs. Sedall to this city.

UTAH Today and Tomorrow

Comparing the frivolities of society with home life, love and motherhood, stressing the elaborateness of toilettes, gowns in what are ironically called the "higher walks of life," Miss Barriscale wears 29 different gowns of latest model. Not only "Film" society but real society appears in the picture, as some of the Los Angeles smart set took part in the big masked ball scenes, tasting the sensations of acting in the films and yet remaining incognito behind the dominos furnished. It contains everything that goes to make a successful photodrama, besides working out a scheme familiar to everyone—the use and abuse of divorce. The play is replete with colorful drama, gay and unusual costuming, and is acted by a cast that is called ideal. You ought to see it—you will enjoy it—and the Mack Sennett Comedy.
